witnessed five ordinary events. Three favorites were lucky. The dump of the day was in the fourth race, when Libertine, one of the starters in to-morrow's Club Members' handicap ran unplaced with a lot of dogs. Libertine carried a world of money at 10 to 9 and 4 to 5, but did not keep anywhere in the lead at any time. Dick Corbly, a white jockey, who was riding Kirkover, was killed. He had been away in the rear. He suddenly commenced riding hard, and was overcoming his field rapidly when the horse went down. Two horses immediately behind fell over Corbley's horse. The boy struck one of the fence rails, as an ugly gash had been cut in his head and his neck was broken. Punch, who was running ahead of the field, fell at the same time as Kirkover. He broke his leg and was afterwards shot. Charlie R., was one of

Dominion Sports Want the Corbett-Fitzsimmons "Mill." MONTREAL, May 31.—There is a possibility of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight taking place in the immediate vicinity of Montreal. A syndicate, the names of the members of which are as yet a secret, has been formed for the purpose of offering a purse of $25,000 if the fight be pulled off here. They will guarantee that no one will interfere with it. Of course, this means that the syndicate intends to buy out the municipal government of some small town near Montreal, but the interesting question may then arise whether the provincial government can interfere with municipal resolutions. An emissary of the syndicate left for the States to-day.

Corbett Goes Into Training. NEW YORK, May 31 .- Champion Jim Corbett has gone to Asbury Park to begin his preparatory training for his fight with Fitzsimmons. He intends remaining there until the 1st of July, at least, in order that he may be in good condition when the time and place of battle are announced.

MRS. STANFORD'S NOBLE WORK.

Spends Half of Her Private Means that the University May Not Close.

PALO ALTO, Cal., May 31.-Commencement to-day at Stanford University was noteworthy, as it witnessed the graduation of the first class which had pursued a fouryears' course at the university. This class numbered 168, upon whom were conferred the degree of bachelor of arts. The whole number of students in the university is 1,100, President Jordan was asked what had been accomplished in these four years, and what were the prospects for the future. He said:

"California students who escape dissipation and folly when young make the best students in the world. They have good physique and the climate helps them in their work. You heard to-day in the bac-calaureate address on 'Individualism' that individual education is the keynote of our system. We have done more in this way than any other college. The only obstacle to the progress of the university is the United States government injunction. Since Senator Stanford died not one dollar has come to the university from his estate. Mrs. Stanford has used about half her private means to keep the university running. She has been spending, through me, $1,000 daily to carry things along. The only worry is that the government's suit might be delayed so that Mrs. Stanford's fortune would be exhausted before a decision. In that event the university would have to close. I am confident that the government suit is without foundation, and that it will be settled this fall. Then we can go ahead, but economy will be necessary. Hereafter the number of pupils will be limited to eleven hundred, only vacancies being filled by new students."

President Jordan added that the standard of scholarship was high at Stanford, as all who failed to keep up, as we'l as the dissipated, were asked to withdraw. There were no formal expulsions, but drones and triflers soon found they could not stay. He thought it would be a great loss to California if Stanford University were forced to close its doors,

RECEIVER IN CHARGE.

Commonwealth Mutual Fire Insurance Company in Trouble.

BOSTON, May 31.-The Commonwealth Mutual Fire Insurance Company has passed into the hands of William B. Stevens as receiver. Two months ago the insurance commissioner asked the Supreme Court to wind up the affairs of the company, but a compromise was effected, and the company was allowed to continue. A statement submitted to the insurance department a few days ago shows risks outstanding amounting to $10,406,019. The company's gross cash income for the year was $234,274, and its expenditures $205,091. Its cash assets were $91,644, and as a reinsurance reserve has to be provided for the balance against the company was set down at $74,098. It is stated, however, that losses since the statement was made out have reduced the com-pany's cash assets considerably.

GANG OF FIRE BUGS

MADE A BUSINESS OF FIRING STORES AND FLATS FOR INSURANCE.

Confession of the "Chief Mechanic"-How Evidence of Incendiarism Was Destroyed.

NEW YORK, May 31 .- Morris Schoenholz, who was arrested recently on the charge of arson, has made a statement to the police which will probably result in the arrest of a dozen or more insurance adjusters. It is alleged that Schoenholz confessed to firing at least half a dozen houses in this city and Brooklyn by prearrangement for the insurance. One fire in Yonkers was all prepared and ready, when it was prevented by accident. The fires that "panned out" were all set with benzine on the bladder plan. This plan is as simple as it is effective. The doomed store or flat is sprinkled with alcohol and a bladder filled with the inflammable stuff is suspended from the ceiling. Then it is set on fire, and when the flames reach the bladder there is an explosion which destroys the property and every vestige of the manner in which the fire was set. A similar result is obtained by turning on all the gas and letting one jet burn. The explosive point is reached in due time. These are the flash fires that puzzled police and firemen. Morris Schoenholz was the expert who did the business, but he was himself simply the tool of a gang of fire adjusters. Another member of the gang named Hirschkopf has also made a confession. The fire bugs, according to Hirschkopf, are oathbound and have regular headquarters. The conspiracy is known as the "Dark Secret." and each member was duly initiated Schoenholz is said to have been the head or "chief mechanic" of the gang which fired the West-side apartment houses, the headquarters of which was in a saloon in Suffolk street. According to Hirschkopf, who fled to San Francisco at the time of his indictment several months ago, Schoenholz tried to burn to death Simon Rosenbaum, who was suspected of betraying the conspiracy in a fire which he had started at Lynn, Mass. Rosenbaum, who was formerly the "chief mechanic" of the Isaacs gang, was frightfully burned, and on his recovery was the principal witness against adjuster Grauer on his trial last February. Rosenbaum then testified that he knew one member of the gang who was driven insane by torture because his fellow-con-

Japan Will Manufacture Cotton Goods on an Extensive Scale.

NEW YORK, May 31.-Mr. N. Hashiguichi, Japanese consul-general in New York, is enthusiastic over the prospect that the cotton of the South will serve to draw the commercial relations of Japan and the United States still closer. He said to a reporter recently: "An American cotton dealer told me a few days ago that he had shipped seven thousand bales of raw cotton from the South to Japan by way of San Francisco. You see, labor is very cheap in Japan, and we can manufacture cotton cloth there at a comparatively small expenditure. We find a ready market for the made product in China and Corea, where the bulk of the people are so poor that they are obliged to wear cotton cloth. The growth administered a liberal dose of Indianapolis of mills in Japan has been very rapid of late, and the superiority of the raw material from this country over that obtained from India and China has created a great desire on the part of my countrymen to get raw cotton from the United States by some route that would obviate the necessity of paying tribute to England for the privilege. Not only have we a ready market for cotton cloth in China and Corea, but I look to see the made product returned to this country and sold here at a profit. The cheapness of labor in Japan will render this possible.' R. M. Levy, a member of the New York

Cotton Exchange, who has large common interests in the South, and who has spent much time in New Orleans, was seen at the Hotel Savoy, and was not surprised at Mr. Hashiguichi's remarks. Mr. Levichowed a dispatch he had recently received from New Orleans, that ran as follows: "Japan is buying cotton at this port." Mr. Levy said: "This indicates that Japan has placed a representative at New Orleans to look after her interests in the purchase of raw cotton. You know that all the great European nations have agents at New Orleans to take care of their respective interests in the cotton crop of the South. Hitherto no Oriental nation has had an agent at New Orleans, but there is no doubt that Japan, with her wideawake tendencies, has seen the necessity of placing a representative at the great cotton market of the South. Cotton has been shipped to Japan by way of Liverpool for some years past, but it has been done quietly and little has been said in the newspapers regarding it. I am into take rank as a great commercial nation will have a very marked influence on the prosperity of our cotton-growing States." Suicide of a Banker's Daughter. DUNKIRK, N. Y., May 31.-Miss Elsle Coleman, the twenty-year-old daughter of the late William Coleman, a wealthy banker of this city, committed suicide, last night, by blowing out her brains with a revolver, after spending a pleasant evening with her friends. The family was wealthy and prominent in society. No cause is assigned for the deed. She is said to have been the the deed. She is said to have been the fiancee of ex-Forestry Commissioner Mac-lennon, of Pennsylvania.

TRIPLE LYNCHING.

Three Negroes Shot to Death in a Swamp and Another Beaten.

NEW YORK, May 31 .- A dispatch to a local paper from Bartow, Fla., says: Mrs. Timberlake, a young widow, who lives with her father in the western part of this county, was assaulted on Tuesday by a negro, while she was in bed with her little daughter. Four negroes who were suspected of knowledge of the crime were arrested and, last night, were taken from their guards while en route to this place to be placed in jail, by half a hundred men who wore thick black masks and carried Winchesters. The masked men disappeared with the negroes into a swamp, where three of them were put to death and the fourth was almost beaten to death and Another dispatch says: Some man tered Mrs. Dora Timberlake's room, at her residence, eight miles west of Barlow, on Saturday night. His object is unknown, but it is presumed to have been theft. He was frightened away, but was tracked to a camp, where there were four negroes, and all were arrested, but no identification could be made. On the night following the par-ties started to this city with all four ne-thought they were warned to leave the country, and obeyed. The general belief is that the report of the lynching is untrue.

Another Lynching. COLUMBIA CITY, Fla., May 21.-A mob took James Freeman, colored, from a guard of four men at 10 o'clock last night, tied him to a tree and shot him to death. He had tried to criminally assault Mrs. Consel, also colored, and had pleaded guilty before a justice of the peace.

AS STRANGERS SEE HIM.

How Ex-President Harrison Conducts Himself in New York. Letter in Boston Transcript.

Ex-President Harrison's occasional visits to New York usually contribute to the gayety of the town and his enjoyment of them on their domestic side is delighted to see. In public places he is altogetner tea and modest in his bearing, neither courting attention nor seeking os tentatiously to avoid it. He has his lodgings at the Fifth-avenue Hotel, passes to and fro in its corridors, leaves his key and takes his letters at the clerk's desk, and breakfasts and dines at the public table, as any well-to-do traveler might, with no recourse to private doors and private tables. In fine weather he walks much on Fifth avenue, Broadway and other frequented thoroughfares, sometimes alone, sometimes with his daughter or his grandson. When he rides it is oftener in a horsecar or cable car than in a cab. He spends his days, for the most part, in the studio of Mr. Eastman Johnson, to whom he is sitting for a portrait, or with his relatives. In the evening he is fond of the theater, and of Mr. Mansfield's acting in particular. Provincial as the self-satisfied New Yorker would doubtless call Mr. Harrison, his taste in plays is in serious contrast to the average politician's. When federal officers or Congressmen from Washington or legislators from Albany make holiday in New York and seek the theater they usually choose the most vacuous or the most rowdy entertainment that the playhouses afford. Mr. Harrison, on the other hand seems to have some sympathetic understanding of the art of playwright and of actor, and to find pleasure in his visits to New York in gratifying it. At a theater. though in no wise does he make himself conspicuous, his presence is generally soon discovered, and the word passed from mouth to mouth that he is in the house. Once, at least, within the past few days, he has been applauded as he entered. In the corridors of his hotel many acquaintances turn to speak to him and the loungers look after him and point him out one to another. On the streets, however, although few who have ever seen the ex-President are likely to forget his squat figure and his waxen pallor, he seems sometimes to pass unnoticed and sometimes be generally recognized. Jenkins affirms daily in the journals of the town that wherever Mr. Harrison goes he attracts speedy attention; but the other day when the 'Transcript's correspondent chanced to walk for a full half mile on a well-filled street within sight of the ex-President few persons recognized him and scarcely a head was turned to watch him on his way. "Statement Is Argument." Philadelphia Times.

SPIKED THE GUNS.

Wichita's Cannon Rendered Hors de Combat by Rat-Tail Files.

WICHITA, Kan., May 31 .- Kansas is without an artillery. In the dead of last night several soldiers, whose names are unknown, crept into the headquarters of the local artillery company, where all the cannon in possession of the State were stored, and spiked every gun with rat-tail files. The cannon were used in yesterday's memorial services, and all are old-timers, many of them having been condemned by the government. During the firing of a salute yesterday one of them exploded, tearing both arms off private Fennell and the fingers of private Walker. The accident caused considerable adverse comment on the officers in permitting the condemned cannon to be used, and last night's action on the part used, and last night's action on the part of the incensed soldiers was the result. The cannon are damaged beyond repair.

Our Obsequious Foreign Policy.

Baltimore American. All previous administrations for many years have managed to retain the friendship of England, and the friendship of all other countries, without making any humiliating bids for it. The American rule in diplomacy has been, since the war of 1812, to deal justly but firmly with all nations. and to require precisely the same consideration from them. This rule was never violated until Mr. Cleveland's first election. The obsequious policy was initiated by Mr. Bayard while he was at the head of the State Department. The Sackville incident could not have occurred during a Republican administration, for the reason that t would not have been necessary for a Republican President to demonstrate his loyalty to his own country. Mr. Bayard's friends charged that he was handicapped by his chief, and this may have been true. It is altogether probable that the late Judge Gresham suffered in the same way. But groes, and were overtaken by another party who secured the prisoners and spirited them there ought to be no more of it., The President ought to have learned something away. Two of the negroes have since been seen, and say they were whipped, and that y experience. He must perceive that the one or both of the others were killed, but whole people cannot be wrong, and the this story is not believed, as no trace of people are very nearly a unit in unqualified condemnation of his foreign policy. The the missing negroes can be found. It is cry of the British jingoes, under the leadership of Disraell, was "peace with honor," a phrase which has been strangely distorted by Mr. Cleveland's administration to mean peace at any price.

Those who are neither jingoes nor sycophants, among whom may be numbered the great bulk of the American people, want the dignity and honor of the country maintained as it was before Mr. Cleveland's election, and they feel sure that a manly, self-respecting policy will not be attended with the slightest danger.
